Energy Efficiency Tip (December, 2008)

This month's energy efficiency tip...

LED CHRISTMAS LIGHTS:

Make your holiday displays smart and fashionable with LED decorative light strings — they are safer, last up to 10 times longer, and use up to 90% less energy than regular incandescent holiday lights.

Did you know...

The amount of electricity consumed by just one 7-Watt incandescent bulb could power 140 LED bulbs — enough to light two 24-foot (7.3-metre) strings.

This energy efficiency tip has been brought to you by Efficiency NB, proud partner of Belledune's Community Conservation Initiative.

Message from the Fire Department:

When red lights and sirens are on please do not overtake fire or emergency vehicles when they are on route to an emergency call. Also, do not block entrances to emergency sites.

My Christmas wish to you

We all have jobs, we all have anxiety, we all have stress and we are all human. But what we all have not been doing is accepting that this is life and that this is normal. We all feel the burden of: money, bills, future, and past debts. But we are not alone in this. We all miss a friend; we all need to make a new friend. But we are not alone in this. Every one feels these things time to time or for some even daily.

My Christmas wish to you and to everyone is to take the time to realize all that you have, not just how hard it was to take you there. Living is learning and hard times are what make us who we are. Trying to constantly please other people is a hard thing to ever accomplish but trying to please yourself is even harder. I found a Chinese proverb today that stood out to me and made me think about how easy it is to get caught up in "life" as we call it. But when I die I don't want anyone to say "She was a good worker or she was great at spreadsheets" I want them to say that "She loved life, she loved her family and always shared her feelings and lived a deep and meaningful life" At the end of the day we all need to "leave it at the office" just as we are taught to work with the "leave your problems at the door" policies. Which we all know is far from always possible. All this being said I hope that we all can take deep breaths from time to time and reflect on our lives. Good, sad or even bad memories. Our lives are what we live for, not our jobs.

Sincerely,
-Melissa M Harvey

Here is the Chinese Proverb:

Tension is who you think you should be. Relaxation is who you are.

Home for Christmas

I go home for Christmas
In memory every year
To the home of my early childhood
And visit my parents dear.

The smell of home made baking
Comes from the wood stove bright
A hint of Dads cigar smoke
Curls round the old oil light.

It's a magic waiting time
With three stockings in a row
As my brothers and I sit together
And hear the winds blow.

There's talk of a jolly old man
And a taste of moms fresh bread
Then a story of the Christ Child
Before we go to bed.

I'll carry those precious memories
And live them every year
When Christmas bells are ringing
I'll visit my parents dear.
